

This is Warsaw. It's the capital of Poland. There are over 1,5 milion people living in Warsaw. Warsaw is located in the central-eastern part.

You can see a lot of famous buildings there. You can see Royal Castle in Warsaw - a baroque-classicist royal castle located in Warsaw at Castle Square 4. It performs museum and representative functions. Originally the residence of the Mazovian princes, and from the 16th century the seat of the authorities of the First Polish Republic: the King and the Sejm (Chamber of Deputies and Senate).

You can see Łazienki Królewskie

Palace of Culture and Science, PKiN (until 1956 Józef Stalin's Palace of Culture and Science) - the tallest building in Poland (in terms of total height), located in the center of Warsaw at Plac Defilad 1. Since 2007 the building has been in the register monuments. The palace was a "gift of the Soviet people to the Polish nation."

My favourite thing is The Multimedia Fountain Park in Warsaw is a complex of four fountains located on the Square of the 1st Armored Division of the Polish Army between the streets Bolięc, Wybrzeże Gdańskie, Sanguszki and Rybaki in the New Town in Warsaw. In the past, a kidney-shaped water reservoir was located here.
